

RURAL SCHOOL SOCIAL CENTERS

The Lure of the City Felt in Remote Rural Sections

GRAVE PROBLEM CONFRONTS THE PEOPLE

While many societies are being founded to exploit the "Back to the Farm" movement, the gravest problem confronting the farmer is how to keep young people on the farm.

The lure of the city is felt even in the remotest rural communities. All young people are pleasure-loving. They demand recreation, and if opportunities for social enjoyment do not present themselves in their own community, they are bound to seek them afar.

The opportunity for helpful recreation and enjoyment presents itself in the new School Social-Center movement.

In by-gone days, the rural schools provided entertainment for the community in the form of "spelling-bees," "singing-schools," etc. Gradually these recreations died out, and there sprang up "lyceums" and "literary societies," both of which were helpful and inspiring to the young, even though the oratory was crude, and the knowledge of subjects under discussion limited.

Today the lyceum is a thing of the past, and the country school-house stands desolate and deserted, during the long winter evenings, and through the long months of vacation.

Farm children should be given the most careful and judicious training in the public schools. This however is far from being the rule. In many cases the teachers themselves lack proper training, and the equipment is of the poorest kind. Every rural school should be provided with a good library for the benefit of both the school and the community.

The acquisition of knowledge from books is necessary, but this book-knowledge does not in itself constitute an education, far from it. We need an educational system which fits a boy or girl to earn a living; creates a desire for more knowledge; makes civic duty plain, and teaches him or her the fundamental principles of universal brotherhood.

At present a very large per cent of the business and professional men, including statesmen, especially through the South and West, are men who were reared on the farm, or came from the workshops of towns and villages. The indications are that a very large per cent of the leaders of the future will come from the same sources. Therefore it is necessary that the children in the rural school should receive better training than is being given them now.

Many of the ablest men of today have been hampered by lack of early training, and nothing can take the place of this lost training. If the state wants its citizens to be successful, prosperous, and happy in the future it must no longer neglect the early training of those who are to bring about the conditions which will accomplish the desired results.

Our best teachers should be sent to the rural schools; earnest progressive men and women, capable of introducing into the work qualities which will arouse the young people's enthusiasm and set them thinking and investigating along new lines of endeavor.

The country presents ideal conditions for the study of nature, and yet how many children are taught the real fundamental facts of nature, unfolding themselves all about them? The perennial miracle of plant life is so common, and so constantly before them, that they fail to see or take note of it. An intelligent presentation of this wonderful fact of resurrected life, will arouse in the minds of the children new lines of thought, and send them forth with eager feet, to make new discoveries.

The attention of the children should be directed to the wise provision made by trees and hardy plants for the coming of winter, as, at the first hint of the changing season, they begin to store up carbon, withdrawing from the leaves what the tree needs for its support during the winter's cold, and by the withdrawal of the sap, hardening and protecting the limbs and branches.

Such study naturally leads to the study of animals, and nature's provision for their protection during the winter months as illustrated by the migration of birds, etc. The topics are endless. Thus the children may be taught to realize the whole universe is a great, living, thinking, feeling thing,—and back of it all is the One Life, throbbing and pulsing through it.

With intelligent thought, rightly presented, the farm can be shown to be such a wonderful store-house of marvelous things that the boys and girls will forget the cities with their glittering allurements, in their intense interest in things right at hand.

The School Social Center presents the opportunity. The school-rooms should be thrown open for all kinds of meetings of an uplifting character, including social functions, holiday celebrations, lectures, musicals, etc.

Certain branches of domestic science should be given a place in every country school curriculum. Few country house-wives have ever been taught efficient dress-making. Why not employ a sewing-teacher, from some near-by city, who understands her work thoroughly, to give a series of lessons at the School Social Center, the classes to be attended by both mothers and daughter?

While most farmers' wives are excellent cooks, few understand food values, or food hygiene. This branch of domestic science should be thoroughly taught by an expert dietician.

Then why not hold neighborhood fairs and exhibitions, where both domestic arts, and farm products may be displayed thus arousing increased and enthusiastic interest in every-day work?

Nor should the boys be neglected. A small building might be erected, a good carpenter employed, and a manual training class organized. Lectures, illustrating scientific farming, might be given.

Truly opportunity is knocking at the door of the Rural School Social Center. Will the farmers realize the fact, and grasp it?

Everybody is liable to "catch cold" but those who give a cold proper attention never have serious lung diseases. It is neglect that makes them serious. Prudent persons use BALLARD'S HOREHOUND SYRUP as soon as the trouble appears and the cold is cured at once. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. An article that has real merit should in time become popular. That such is the case with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been attested by many dealers. Here is one of them. H. W. Hendrickson, Ohio Falls, Ind., writes, "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best for coughs, colds and croup, and is my best seller." For sale by All Dealers.

Mule Threw S. S. David of Carbonale and broke his arm.

S. S. David of Carbonale was going to St. Charles Wednesday to bring a mower home. He was riding one of the mules when it became frightened at a motor cycle ridden by Hardy Kennett and threw him. His hand became fastened in the handle and as the mule ran through the woods his arm struck against a tree and broke it above the elbow. Dr. Finley of St. Charles dressed the wound and Mr. David is getting along as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

Bad breath, bitter taste, dizziness and a general "no account" feeling is a sure sign of a torpid liver. HERBINE is the medicine needed. Had Finger Cut.
Miss Lelia Vaughan, one of the Bee's Typos, had the misfortune to have her finger cut with flying glass Monday morning. Some of the carpenters who are working on the pool room addition in the rear of Nixon's restaurant left a heavy plank standing near the window. It was jarred loose in some manner and fell through the window breaking the sash, four panes of glass and cutting Miss Vaughan's finger.

House Burns at Madisonville

The residence of Dick Rodgers on Sugg street caught fire in some unknown manner while the family was absent Sunday evening at 7.30. The alarm was promptly turned in and a large crowd gathered to see it burn. Some of the neighbors broke the doors open and saved a considerable portion of household goods. Mr. Rodgers is said to have sold the place to a negro about two weeks ago.

SOUTHERN METHODIST TO HOLD CONFERENCE

Body Which Has Jurisdiction Over Western Half of State to Meet at Morganfield

The 1912 session of the Louisville conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, which has jurisdiction over the western half of the State, will meet in Morganfield on September 25 and last through September 30th. Aside from the always interesting assignment of preachers for the several churches including those in the city of Louisville, the session this time does not promise to be of more than the usual note. Even the changes of pastors this time will be fewer than usual and as a rule only the smaller churches will be affected.

Bishop Collins Denny was first assigned to hold the conference but owing to the illness of Bishop Hess, it now looks as if Bishop McCoy will preside.

The citizens of Morganfield will entertain the preachers and delegates. There are about two hundred preachers in the conference and practically all of them are expected to attend the conference.

Many Driven From Home

Every year in many parts of the country, thousands are driven from their homes by coughs and lung diseases. Stay right there with your friends, and take this safe medicine. Throat and lung troubles find quick relief and health returns. It helps in coughs, colds, grip croup, whooping-cough and sore lungs make it a positive blessing. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by all druggists.

CITY COUNCIL HAS IMPORTANT MEETING

Several Ordinances Passed For Further Paving Streets

ADDITIONAL SEWERAGE DISCUSSED

An important meeting of the City Council was held last night in the City Hall, all of the councilmen were present except J. M. Oldham, who was absent on account of illness. At this meeting several ordinances were passed to construct pavements on streets in the city. One of these ordinances covers streets in the Western portion of the city leading to the cemetery, this will give pedestrians a high and dry walk to and from this place and will fill a long felt want. The construction of additional sewerage was discussed and contracts for same will probably be let in a short time. Y. Q. Walker was elected city tax collector and will begin his duties at the proper time. It is in the range of possibilities that an ordinance will be passed in a future meeting authorizing a pavement leading to the lake.

She was stricken nearly a week ago and very little hope was held for her recovery. Mrs. Darnell was 76 years old and had made her home with her daughter. Tom Thumb Wedding Great Success

The Tom Thumb wedding in which a number of Earlinton little folks took part at the Opera house Friday night was a great success. The little ones played their part without a mistake before a large and enthusiastic audience. A nice sum was realized for the Christian Church.

Under the graded school system proposed for Earlinton the man who pays poll tax only cannot be made to pay over fifty cents a year more than his present school poll tax paid to the county.

Earlinton Man Out For Representative

Dr. Eldred A. Davis, of this city, has shed his castor in the political ring and will make the race for representative. Dr. Davis is well known and popular here and the people of Hopkins County will know he is in the race before it is over.

If you want your children to receive the benefit of your school tax vote for the graded school on Saturday Sept. 14th and keep all school money in Earlinton.

EVERYDAY PHILOSOPHY

(William J. Burtcher in "Judge.")

A man doesn't have to aim very high to hit the dollar mark.

Cupid should be behind every wedding—but not too far behind.

He who would have it said that he sings like a bird must sing better than birds.

The five senses—horse sense, common sense, uncommon sense, non-sense and just sense.

Wise men repeat their own wisdom to please themselves and repractice it to please others.

The man who wants something he hasn't the money to buy, is poor—and so is the man who wants something he cannot buy with the money he has.

It's such a grand thing to live to be the father of a father that the world calls him a grandfather.

The unjust critic makes the molehills of badness look like mountains and the mountains of goodness like molehills.

It's difficult for a man to be some of the time as good as he ought to be all of the time if he wants to be all of the time as bad as he ought to be none of the time.

There was a time when an ordinary man with an ordinary message could make an extraordinary impression, but now it takes an extraordinary man with an extraordinary message to make ever an ordinary impression.

Take HERBINE for heartburn, sour belching or constipation, it cleanses and strengthens the liver, stomach and bowels. Price 50c. Sold by St. Bernard Mining Co., Incorporated Drug Department.

Porch Party

Mrs. Newell Alford was the charming hostess at a Rook party at her lovely home on Farron Ave. Friday morning, given in honor of her sister Miss Margaret Atkinson, who leaves this week for Buford College, Nashville. Three tables of young people made merry during the morning hours at which time a dainty luncheon of sandwiches and ices was served.

For the highest score made Miss Susan Marie Crutchfield received a handsome box of paper. Miss Margaret Atkinson, as guest of honor, was also presented with a box of paper.

This was one of the most delightful social affairs of the season.

The Men Who Succeed

as heads of large enterprises are men of great energy. Success, today demands health. To all is to fail. It's utterly folly for a man to endure a weak, run-down, half alive condition when Electric Bitters will put him right on his feet in short order. "Four bottles did me more real good than any other medicine I ever took," writes Chas. B. Allen, Sylvania, Ga. "After years of suffering with rheumatism, liver trouble, stomach disorders, and deranged kidneys, I am again, thanks to Electric Bitters, sound and well." Try them. Only 50 cents at all druggists.

SECOND THOUGHTS OF A MINUTE PHILOSOPHER

(William J. Burtcher in The Searchlight)

This generation is also looking for a sign—but it is the dollar sign.

Seest thou a man diligent in dodging his taxes—remember him in your prayers.

Big men dress their big thought in little words—for didn't the little words get here first.

Most of us can talk more religion than we can practice. Talk is cheap—it takes time to practice.

If eating meat offend my vegetarian brother I will eat no more meat—while dining at his table.

A man will never do much good with his hands if he hasn't a lot of goodness in his heart to serve as motive power.

Reforming a man during courtship is a maiden's delight. Keeping him reformed after marriage takes a woman with might.

Every rose has its thorn, but fortunately there are other flowers just as plentiful and beautiful that have no thorns.

Art is the reflection of the beauty of life; music is the echo of the harmony of life; and literature is the essence of the wisdom of life.

For Women Who Care

Of course you use an antiseptic in your family and in the care of your own person, and you want the best.

Instead of what you have been using such as liquid or tablet antiseptics or peroxide, now you please try Paxtine, a concentrated antiseptic powder to be dissolved in water as needed.

Paxtine is more economical, more cleansing, more germicidal and more healing than anything you ever used.

Paxtine
ANTISEPTIC

In the toilet—to cleanse and whiten the teeth, remove tartar and prevent decay. To disinfect the mouth, destroy disease germs, and purify the breath. To keep artificial teeth and bridgework clean and odorless. To remove nicotine from the teeth and purify the breath after smoking. To eradicate perspiration odors by sponge bathing.

As a medicinal agent for local treatment of feminine ills where pelvic catarrh, inflammation and ulceration exist, nothing equals hot douches of Paxtine. For ten years the Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co. has been regularly advising their patients to use it because of its extraordinary cleansing, healing and germicidal power. For this purpose alone Paxtine is worth its weight in gold. Also for nasal catarrh, sore throat, inflamed eyes, cuts and wounds. All druggists, 25 and 50 cents a box. Trial box and testimony of 31 women free on request.

PROVERBS OF A YOUNG LAYMAN

William J. Burtcher in Nashville Christian Advocate

Fast living starts men running in debt.

He who lends a helping hand is a handy helping man.

Husbands love your wives—wives love your husbands—and obey your children.

Don't decide about a woman's prettiness until you see how prettily she does.

We must lay up more treasures in heaven than on earth, for we shall spend a much longer time in heaven than on earth, and shall need more.

The lawyers get more for untangling knots than ministers do for tying them, the ministers make the most money, anyway, as there are so many more knots tied than untied.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on the prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, O., by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists. Price 75c per bottle. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

"To make a success of advertising one must be prepared to stick to it like a barnacle on a boat's bottom. Advertising doesn't jerk; it pulls. It begins very gently at first, but the pull is steady. It is likened to a team pulling a heavy load. A thousand spasmodic, jerky pulls will not budge that load, while one-half the power in steady effort will start it and keep it moving."

INDIANS ON WAR PATH

Yaquis Harass Residents of Sonora Along Southern Pacific

Tucson, Ariz., Sept. 8.—Yaqui Indians, favoring the rebellion, have taken to the warpath, adding new terrors to the rebel-harassed residents of Sonora along the Southern Pacific Railroad. A band of 100 Indians raided Realito, a hamlet on the Yaqui river, last night, and carried away one of the village officials. They attacked Colonia, near the Southern Pacific headquarters at Empalme and killed two men, one woman and child and wounded another woman.

A Federal guard, comprising an officer and twelve men, were at the Empalme railway station when the attack was made and they immediately made off on foot toward Colonia.

The soldiers met the inhabitants of Colonia fleeing before the Indians to Empalme, and because the noncombatants were between their pursuers and rescuers, the latter was unable to direct an effective fire at Yaquis. The Indians, however, sent a brisk fire into the townspeople.

Of the dozen Federal soldiers who went out to meet the hostiles, five were killed and six were injured. One Yaqui dead remained on the battlefield when the Indians withdrew to the hills. It is reported that 400 rebels are encamped almost within sight of Empalme tonight.

So close were the Indians to Empalme during the fighting that bullets struck the American Railway Club and several residents.

School Days Begin

No matter what strife of tongues and fists and gangs may divide the factions of kids, on one issue they join hearts and hand. That is dislike of school.

A mother making plans for Halloween, suggested to her little flock that they have a bonfire and burn an effigy of something. Asked what they wanted for an effigy, after consultation they cried with one accord, "Teacher."

It was not so very long ago, when the majority of children lived on farms, and when even village or town boys had regular tasks.

The farm youngster drove and milked the cows, raked after the cart, and trod hay under the eaves, spurred on by the remorseless farm hand. The chance to sit down in a quiet school room with a book was heaven, and Teacher a ministering angel of mercy.

The average town boy of today is free as a bird in vacation. He becomes an irresponsible little vagrant. Confining him in a stuffy school house is about as difficult and unpopular as caging a flock of swallows. With the force of the truant officer lurking in the back ground, it can and of course must be done. But you should expect the growing wings to flutter against the bars.

Apply a cotton cloth wet with BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT to all wounds, cuts, burns, sores or blisters, and note it's wonderful healing power. It is prompt and very effective. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by St. Bernard Mining Co., Incorporated Drug Department.

Figures on the Sheriff's books show that the Corporations of Earlington will pay three-fourths of the graded school tax for the education of our children. Can't the citizens afford to pay the remaining one-fourth?

Rice Bowles and Judge Bennett were in Evansville Monday.

If you care for the future of your home town and are interested in the future education of your children and your neighbors children vote for the graded school Saturday Sept. 14.

Dress as a Matter of Education

Some people have worn that old saying "bread-bare," that "clothes do not make the man." This season's early showing of men's and young men's fall suits and top garments, represents the accumulated experience of nearly half a century of High Art underwear and leadership in the art and construction of ready-for-service clothes. The IDLE HOUR is a COOL place to go these hot nights.

A LITTLE BIT HUMOROUS

Visitor—Was old man Jones well fixed, do you know?
Native—You bet! He left prize-contest coupons good for $45 on a $1,000 piano, $5 credit on a sewing machine, another one for first payment of $3 in a series of seventy-five payments on a Long Island lot, and a missing-word coupon good for $7 worth of groceries in a Chicago house if you bought $100 worth first.—Puck.

WAY HE LOOKED AT IT.

'Liza—We certainly ought to be thankful for 'dis turkey today.
Zeke—Yes, and moah so dat I done got away wid it widout bein' caught.

Envious, Perhaps.
As soon's a man
Acquires a roll,
The world declares
He has no soul.

The Reason.

She—Why was your engagement broken off?
He—Well, after taking the girl to dinners and theaters, giving her costly presents and a birthday gift of a motorcar, her father accused me of amusing myself at her expense.—Answers.

Motoring.

"Why are we stopping?" asked the nervous woman.
"To pump up a tire," replied her husband.
"You would probably do well to change your chauffeur. I am afraid you have gotten hold of one of these fresh-air fiends."

Passing Strange.

"Deacon Brown seems to have a mania for looking at billboards."
"Yes?"
"I can't account for it, either."
"No?"
"There will be no burlesque shows in town until next winter."

Its Size.

"I met a man yesterday who wants to sell me his place. He says it is fine—just on the skirt of a forest."
"How large is it?"
"I don't know, but from the vague description he gave of it I am afraid it is something of a hobble skirt."

STRAIGHT PATH.

Mrs. Collier Down—You should be ashamed to stagger up the street like that.
Mr. Collier Down (loaded)—Thash all right—hic. Why, even th'—hic moon getsh full—hic—once in a while.
Mrs. Collier Down—Yes; but the moon always goes in a straight path.

Rather.
It's rather tough
To spend one's life
Earning enough
To dress one's wife.

Over the Telephone.
He—Is that you, my beloved?
She—Yes, dearest; but who are you?—Flegende Blaetter.

"Not exactly, but lately all agreed it was the flag."
